True-up Deadline Approaches for Private Employers!

The True-up period deadline for private employers is approaching! Private employers must complete their payroll True-up report by Monday, August 15, 2022.

At the beginning of each policy period, we'll set an estimated annual premium (EAP) as follows.

- For a new employer, we'll establish your estimated annual premium by using the 12-month payroll estimate you submitted on your application for workers' compensation coverage.

- For an existing employer that had coverage before this policy period, we'll establish your estimated annual premium by using the estimated payroll from the previous policy year.

At the end of the policy year, we must ensure the estimated premium we set for you was correct. To do this, you must file a True-up report that reflects the actual payroll for that policy year. You can complete the report online using the Payroll True-up report service offering.

Have you seen our Safety Services Catalogue?

Check out our updated Safety Services Catalog! In the catalog you will find a list of safety services and programs available to employers at no additional cost! All of our programs and services are covered since they're included as part of your workers' compensation coverage. That's just one of the ways we've got you covered. In addition, you can learn about our grants, online courses and in-person training classes.
